

Car transporter trailer AP3500-DRB with aluminium cover

(EC0325TIK)

The price of the set includes the aluminum cover and the installation of the cover is FREE!

AP3500-DRB is the flagship of TIKI's car transporter trailers. The hot-dip galvanized car transport trailer with a fully welded frame is primarily intended for the transport of passenger cars and large heavy loads. Easy-to-use driveways with a gentle angle allow for the transportation of low-clearance vehicles (for example, a drift car).

The maximum low center of gravity of the trailer increases stability and safety while driving. Waterproof hubs ensure a longer life for the bearings. The platform has a number of strap fastening holes to secure the load. The flat bottom and middle part covered with plywood allows the trailer to be used for transporting other loads as well. The integrated support legs perform two functions - they are a support when loading the load and they lock the driveway during towing. Driveways equipped with a roller system can be easily pulled out, the perforated upper surface ensures good grip. The trailer has a practical lockable accessory box as standard equipment. Correctly installed adjustable crossing barriers make it easier to position the car on the trailer.
